

HR1-3-101 Election of speaker.

- (1) The House of Representatives shall elect a speaker from among its members to perform the duties established by this chapter.
- (2)
 - (a) Following a general election and before January 1 of odd-numbered years, the majority caucus shall elect a speaker-elect.
 - (b) Beginning January 1 of odd-numbered years, the representative elected by the majority caucus shall serve as speaker-elect and perform the duties of the speaker until the House elects a speaker as required by Subsection (1).